Also, please consider investing in Israel bonds (see flyer in coat room). <https://www.israelbonds.com/>

Mazel tov to Mr. and Mrs. Sy Ratner on the engagement of their granddaughter in Israel.

We wish Mr. & Mrs. Jimmy Katz safe travels this week and look forward to see them in the spring.

Thank you to Mr. & Mrs. Frenkel for sponsoring Rabbi Cohen's Gemara shiur for the month of Cheshvan L'N Mrs. Frenkel's father – Aron ben Chaim Itzchak whose yahrtzeit is on the 16th of Cheshvan.

Thank you to Dr. & Mrs. From for sponsoring the woman's shiur for the month of Cheshvan in memory of Paula's mother, Yente Bas Zvi whose Yahrzeit is on the 26th of Cheshvan.

A'vos U'Banim U'Bnos began last Motzai Shabbos– please sponsor an evening! The sign up chart is on the bulletin board.

It's imperative that all Jews UNITE & pray for the people in Israel. Hence, in between mincha and maariv we will be saying Tehillim chapters 121 & 130. If you cannot be in shul, please say it on your own approximately 12 minutes after the scheduled time for mincha or whenever

Are you handy? We are looking for people to help around the shul—inside and out. If you can assist please let us know.

If you are bringing your children to groups, they must stay at groups! If you want to get them from groups early you may, but they can't come and go, as we do not have enough counselors to supervise them UPDATE: During the Rav's speech, the door going upstairs will be LOCKED! If you want to bring / get your child from groups please use the outside door! As well, please DO NOT allow your child to be in the library or by the bathrooms – it's very disturbing - We have groups for this reason ☹

Going digital will save the shul money and be more efficient, please join the email list – please use the QR code below (on schedule page) or on the door of the shul to join.

Shul seating – there are no reserved seats! No shtenders of any type are allowed! PLEASE TAKE your items with you AFTER EACH Minyan.

POINT TO PONDER

Last week, we read about Avrohom Avinu and how he almost lost his son at the Akeida, the son who was supposed to carry on his glorious tradition. When he returns, he finds that his life partner, Sarah, has passed away. After the burial and eulogies, Avrohom knows what he must do: vayomer Avrohom el avdo—he turns to his trusted steward Eliezer, and sends him on a mission to find a wife for his son.

Avrohom realizes that first and foremost, he must secure the future. The traumatic experiences he has been through teach him that when something happens, first of all he must guarantee his future, then he can attend to details.

This week we mark the shloshim of the terrible tragedy of October 7. Many people are asking—how could Hamas break in? Where was the security? What happened to the intelligence service? These are all valid questions—for tomorrow, not for now. Now, job one, the only job, is to retrieve the hostages and destroy Hamas, so that this will not happen again. What we should be doing now is saying tehillim, praying for soldiers and hostages, trying to do more mitzvot, more chesed, send packages, helmets, more positive thinking about fellow Jews.

Later, we need to consider what we have seen and learned in these dreadful times. As an example, when we see what is going on at elite universities, maybe we should rethink whether we really want to expose our precious children to such a devilish environment. Later, Israel will have to review its security procedures and make necessary adjustments. But that's for tomorrow. Today, we need to secure our future by confronting the crisis of today and beseeching Hashem to be with our soldiers and our people. We pray that He hears our cries.

AVAILABLE SPONSORSHIPS

Sponsorships are part of daily shul life. Especially for us, it is what balances the budget, without it, we would be in the red!

For sponsorships, please speak to Yaakov Grunstein or Rob Goldfarb.

The Kitchen renovation is complete – we are looking for someone to re-dedicate the kitchen.

Please do consider sponsoring any of the shiurim, activities, or even just coffee is a huge help.

Celebrate your life with us; on behalf of a parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, or even someone else's.

For donations, membership and room rental please contact Rob Goldfarb 917-485-0917

PLEASE do consider becoming a member (only $1,2,3 a day covers membership for an entire family and more).

Please view our virtual Kiosk to see all that we offer - <https://secure.merchpay.com/oybh/> (all credit cards accepted).
